What is it about?

Humane Education Camp has one simple goal- to teach kids how to appreciate and care for dogs. During camp, children get to interact with dogs and get hands-on experience in caring for dogs, learning responsibility and appreciating the comfort and love that man's best friend can provide.

What is the plan?

Camp lasts five days, Monday through Friday. Each day, campers will work on one specific aspect of owning a dog, completing worksheets and working with one dog per two children. Younger campers will be paired with older campers, and they will learn to work as a team with "their" dog. On day five, Friday, Campers will perform in a dog show to demonstrate their learned skills and impress friends and family.

What are the benefits?

All parents wait for that moment, where their child brings home a puppy and asks that all-important question: can I keep it? Humane Education Camp is meant to teach children how to be responsible for a pet. At camp, children will gain hands-on experience with dogs, and they will learn the significance of caring for another life. For families who are unsure of whether their children are ready for a pet, this is the perfect test. After children go through this camp, parents can be confident that their children will be prepared to care for a dog.

What should campers bring with them?

On day one, Monday, campers should bring the following items:

- Two extra shirts, in case they get dirty cleaning up after and while grooming dogs
- Any medications that the camper needs, with doctor's orders and directions on dosage. For allergy medication, ibuprofen, acetaminophen, Motrin, and any other over-the-counter medications, campers must bring parental consent forms and parents MUST advise camp directors on dosage. ALL medications and forms MUST be submitted to camp directors in a closed zip-lock bag, with the camper's name written on the bag.
- Snacks for break time, 30 min. each day.
